

IMPORTANT RED CROSS MEETING

Tomorrow Afternoon To Arrange For Fourth Roll Call In Ulster County, Which Occurs November 11th to 25th.

Tomorrow afternoon there will be an important meeting of the branches and auxiliaries of the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross held at the Y. M. C. A. at 3 o'clock. As this meeting is called to make arrangements and to take proposed steps for the carrying on of the Fourth Roll Call drive, to be held throughout the county from November 11th to 25th, it is especially urged that every branch and auxiliary be represented. This roll call is not a money-raising campaign, but an opportunity for all Red Cross Chapter members to renew their membership and pay their annual dues, and for new members to join the Red Cross.

The peace time work which the American Red Cross is carrying on consists of service to our Army of Occupation, consisting of some 17,000 officers and men now in Europe; of the operation of our army and navy hospitals, and of public health work. The Red Cross is still rendering assistance to some of the families of our service men, locally, as well as carrying forward valuable public health work through the good offices of the Red Cross nurse.

The American Red Cross is furthermore doing the government work in affording vocational training for our men crippled or blinded in the late war, and, as always, is holding itself prepared for any emergency or catastrophe that may befall humankind, the world over.

SPEAKERS WILL DISCUSS ISSUES

Unusual Opportunity to Hear Campaign Issues at Republican Rally at Association Hall Friday Night.

Voters of Kingston and Ulster county will have an exceptional opportunity to hear the issues of the campaign discussed Friday night, at the big Republican rally at Association Hall under the auspices of the Harding and Coolidge Club of Ulster County. The meeting will begin at eight o'clock and Mayor Canfield will preside.

The speakers will be former Comptroller William A. Prendergast and Mrs. Rosalie Whitney, both of New York city, and Judge William D. Cunningham of the Court of Claims. Former Comptroller Prendergast made one of the greatest records ever achieved by any public official of Greater New York and in Republican national and state conventions has made some of the most forceful speeches ever delivered before those bodies.

Mrs. Whitney, who is the wife of former Public Service Commissioner Travis H. Whitney, is equally as well known as her husband and has been in great demand for public addresses in many states. Her activity in the Republican party has given her a wide acquaintance among the most active Republicans of the state and nation by whom she is held in high esteem.

Judge Cunningham's ability has long been recognized by the Republican State Committee, at whose request he has been campaigning throughout the state for several weeks. He needs no introduction to any Ulster county audience.

A band of fourteen pieces has been engaged to furnish music.

Union Service Thursday Evening.

In place of the regular Thursday evening prayer service at the three Reformed Churches—the First Reformed, the Fair St. Reformed, and the Reformed Church of the Comforter—this week, there will be held a union missionary meeting in the chapel of the First Dutch Church, at 7:30 o'clock, to which the other two congregations are invited. Mrs. Haidwin, president of the Women's Board of Foreign Missions, a most interesting speaker, will address the meeting, which it is hoped will be largely attended. This meeting will also take the place of the missionary meeting which otherwise would have been held at the chapel of the First Dutch Church Friday afternoon.

Pictures of Orchestra.

The big fall issue of "Musical America" contained a fine picture of the Kingston Symphony Orchestra with an inset of Conductor Muller, sent by the Kingston correspondent of that paper. With this picture is also an outline of the plans of the orchestra for the coming season. This is an extra issue of the magazine, containing 250 pages of fine paper, richly illustrated, covering all musical activities of the country far and wide. It will then be seen that the home orchestra has at last found a place on the musical map which it well deserves.

Parlor House Suffered.

At St. Mark's A. M. E. Church, Fourth avenue, a Parlor House fire will be given by the students of the church, Friday night from 8 to 9 o'clock, preceding the quarterly conference.

HEARING AS TO BROCK'S SANITY

A hearing was had Tuesday afternoon before Andrew J. Cook, Dr. E. E. Norwood and Dr. E. D. B. Loughran, the commissioners appointed by County Judge Joseph M. Fowler to inquire into the sanity of Howard Brock, the young man who knocked down Howard H. Kidder, of the State Custodial School at Rome, N. Y., while trying to escape from him at Ellenville on August 10, causing Mr. Kidder's death from a fractured skull.

Brock was indicted by the September grand jury for manslaughter in the second degree and through his attorney, Frank H. Finn of Middletown, entered a plea of insanity. Mr. Finn appeared for him at Tuesday's hearing and District Attorney Traver appeared for The People.

Benjamin Russell of Ellenville and Policeman John Brown, who were assisting Mr. Kidder when Brock tried to escape, described to the commissioners the attempted escape of Brock, his assault on Mr. Kidder and the latter's death which followed a few minutes after he had been knocked down.

Mrs. Brock, mother of the defendant, testified that since her son had returned home from the army, in which he had served during the war, he had been afflicted with fits, and that her grandmother, her mother, an uncle, an aunt and herself had been similarly afflicted at various times.

Dr. Dexter, former assistant physician at the Dannemora State Hospital at Dannemora, N. Y., testified he had examined Brock and considered that on account of the excitement under which he labored previous to the assault on Mr. Kidder, he might have committed it without appreciating its seriousness. Brock was of the mental age of a person of 8 to 10 years of age.

Dr. Henry Van Hovenberg testified that he did not consider Brock insane in the larger sense of the term, but that he was of such a mental type that the excitement preceding the assault and killing might have rendered him in such condition that he did not appreciate the seriousness of his act.

The commission will make its report to Judge Fowler later.

SILENCE STRIKER HANLEY FREED

Boston, Oct. 27.—Patrick (Corkey) Hanley, who has been on a silence strike in state prison for the last ten years, was released today. Just before leaving he protested bitterly in writing against discharge. Hanley gave no sign of an immediate breaking of his long silence.

Physicians were observing the ex-convict and wondering whether he would be able to talk at once or have to learn to talk all over again. Hanley, once a star athlete, completed a 25 year sentence as a habitual criminal, imposed in a Lawrence court, for the larceny of $84 worth of shoes. He began his "silence strike" ten years ago because he had gotten himself into trouble with prison officials by too much loquacity.

He has ever since carried on conversations with his keepers by means of a pencil and pad.

SHARPE MEMORIAL SITE SELECTED

A meeting of the committee on site and design for the memorial which is to be erected to the late General George H. Sharpe, in commemoration of his service to the people, was held Monday evening at Supreme Court chambers and was attended by Major James H. Everett, chairman of the committee; Judge Alton B. Parker, Howard Chipp and Philip Elkins, members of the committee, and by Judge Hasbrouck, chairman of the general committee appointed by the Ulster County Society in the City of New York.

A resolution was adopted fixing the site for the memorial at the Kingston Academy green (at the junction of Albany avenue and Maiden lane), and appointing John B. Parker and Howard Chipp a sub-committee to procure and receive designs.

The valuable service rendered to the public by General Sharpe during the Civil War and his public services from that time practically up to the time of his death have been properly commemorated and the memorial will be a most appropriate tribute from the public which he served.

Committee Meeting Postponed.

On account of the big Republican mass meeting on Friday night, the meeting of the Ulster County Tu-berculosis Committee which was to have been held at that time has been postponed until Monday evening at eight o'clock, when it will be held at Judge Fowler's office.

HARDING STARTS LAST STUMP TOUR

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Marion, O., Oct. 27.—Swinging into his last campaign speaking trip, Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for president, left Marion today to stump Ohio, home of both "favorite sons" and final battle ground for the presidency.

While Senator Harding's four days stumping tour will be restricted to Ohio audiences, his messages have been prepared as appeals to the whole American people.

In his speech tonight at the Grays Armory, Cleveland, the senator, it was indicated, will reveal in general terms his conception of the obligation and service to be rendered by the next president in unifying the American people in constructive effort and in the remaining prepared speeches to be delivered on following nights in Akron, Cincinnati and Columbus, the Republican candidate will summarize in concrete fashion his views upon needed readjustment, legislation alleged, Democratic inefficiency, the league of nations knot, and other important subjects.

While rear platform speeches and handshaking of a generous portend did not figure on the prepared schedule, Senator Harding was expected to do considerable of both before his Ohio trip, in which he will twice cross the state, ends early Sunday.

It is significant, political observers say, that Senator Harding is making his final big speeches in large industrial areas, where Governor Cox's strength is said to be greatest.

No more porch delegations will be received at Marion. When the swing through Ohio ends, the senator will return to Marion and await the result of next Tuesday's balloting.

CARSON SCORES COX'S COURSE

By Telegraph to The Freeman. London, Oct. 27.—The following statement by Sir Edward Carson, M. P., leader of the Ulster (Ireland) Unionists, on the attitude of Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential nominee, towards Ireland and the league of nations, was printed in the Daily Graphic today:

"Could anything be more likely to frustrate the object of the league of nations than to make statements and promises in the United States for the purpose of obtaining hyphenated votes? It is comic for a country to advance any policy before it is in the league of nations. If such a cause becomes common each nation would have to interfere in the governmental elections of the others and try its case before it came before the court of the league. It is difficult for those of us, who follow the action of Abraham Lincoln in the war of secession to understand the morality of a candidate who can claim the right to break up a union of states which (break up) neither he nor any genuine American would allow in his own country."

HANDITTS SHOT

And Cafe Keeper Also Wounded in Attempted Robbery.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 27.—Police and detectives were today searching the upper west side of New York for a girl and a youth who acted as "look-out" when an attempt was made to rob the cafe of William J. Martin at 609 Columbus avenue. Nicholas Mecca and Thomas Hunt, the other two members of the bandit party, were shot down by Andrew Hollocher, on duty in the cafe. They were reported to be dying today in Knickerbocker Hospital. Hollocher was shot by the bandits and his condition is serious. The girl and youth on guard outside the cafe fled when the shooting started.

Police declare that Hunt and Mecca belonged to a gang that has been terrorizing west side cafe owners for several months.

HAYS FINDS OPTIMISM EASY

By Will H. Hays. (Chairman of the National Republican Committee.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman. New York, Oct. 27.—It is the part of men who are engaged in work of whatever kind to be optimistic about the outcome of their endeavor. Sometimes it is hard to be optimistic, and sometimes it is easy, but optimism always is necessary if one believes in the cause for which he is working and intends to put into it all that there is in him.

In this campaign which is now being conducted in behalf of Harding and Coolidge, it is easy to be optimistic because of the great helpfulness which comes, so to speak, from the signs of the times. Everywhere in this country, barring only the extreme and solid south, and even there in many places, there are indications too marked to be misunderstood that the vast majority of the men and women voters of the United States are determined to end the extravagance, incompetence and worse of the administration at Washington.

There are left only a few days of the hard campaign work. From the state of Washington in a southeastern sweep to the state of Maryland, the Republican cause is on its way to victory, and from East Cape, Maine, to Mendocino, Cal., a southwestern sweep, Republican victory is likewise promised everywhere.

The people are determined that an end shall be put to eight years of maladministration at Washington and that the Republican party which has proved its worth through many years of endeavor and once more shall be employed for its master, the people.

MAC SWINEY NOT A SUICIDE

"Heart Failure" Verdict of Coroner's Jury—Relatives Appeal From Coroner's Refusal to Permit Body to Be Sent to Ireland.

By Telegraph to The Freeman. London, Oct. 27.—A verdict that Terence Mac Swiney, late lord mayor of Cork, died of heart failure was returned by a coroner's jury in Brixton Jail this afternoon. The verdict did not mention "suicide."

The findings of the coroner's jury was that: "The deceased died of heart failure, due to acute delirium, following a prolonged refusal to take food."

The coroner refused permission to ship the body to Ireland for burial on the ground that it was outside his jurisdiction.

Members of the Mac Swiney family immediately appealed to the home office to lift the coroner's embargo against the removal of the body from England.

Preparations had already been made for burial of the late lord mayor at Cork on Sunday. A grave had been reserved for him in the plot allotted to Irish volunteers who "fell in action."

Later in the afternoon the superintendent of Brixton Jail announced that the home office probably would grant permission for the removal of the body to St. George's Roman Catholic Cathedral, Southward, on condition that plans for a procession were abandoned. Irish sympathizers had planned an imposing procession with the coffin from the jail to the Cathedral at 4 o'clock.

CHICAGO BOOZE RING IN DA GER

By Telegraph to The Freeman. Chicago, Oct. 27.—Indictment and arrest of the principals in the "million dollar booze ring," which is said to have flooded Chicago and its environs with contraband liquor since the eighteenth amendment became effective, was believed to be near today with the arrest and reported confession of "Mike de Pike" Heitler, notorious chieftain of the underworld.

Details of Heitler's alleged confession have not been made public but his revelations are said to involve politicians, federal officials and policemen in one of the most elaborate law breaking machines ever uncovered.

Prohibition agents and internal revenue men are alleged to have acted as agents for the "ring," government clerks, express agents, distillery representatives and professional "rum runners" are said to be implicated.

Much of the revenue derived by the conspirators, it is said, came from the seizure and sale of the liquor already once disposed of. According to statements of saloon men, some stocks of booze changed hands as often as six times without any refund of money to victimized purchasers.

Heitler surrendered last night after being caught by the federal authorities. He is being kept under heavy guard and will be probably arraigned today. Information he has given authorities, it is declared, will form the basis of possible indictments of dozens of men said to have grown wealthy through traffic in illicit liquor.

VERDICT OF $950 FOR CARPENTER

A verdict for $950 was brought in Tuesday afternoon by the jury in the case brought by John Carpenter against Clinton Van Buskirk, an action brought to recover for personal injuries received when Mr. Carpenter was run into by one of Mr. Van Buskirk's automobiles on the Saugerties road in September, 1919. A large touring car owned by Morris Schoenfeld of Saugerties, occupied by Mrs. Schoenfeld and their chauffeur, struck the Ford sedan of Mrs. Sarah M. Burhans of Lake Katrine, occupied by Mrs. Burhans and her daughter, Miss Katherine Burhans, as the latter was turning in their lane near the Riel property on the Saugerties road, about six o'clock Tuesday evening. The Burhans car was being driven by Miss Burhans, who signalled her intention of turning in the lane. The Schoenfeld car was traveling at a rapid rate and attempted to pass the Burhans car before it had reached the lane, with the result that it struck and bent the front fender and shook up the occupants of both cars. After hitting the sedan, the touring car crossed the entrance to the lane and went up on the bank alongside the road and then traveled for some distance before coming to a stop. Mrs. Burhans suffered considerably from shock and was brought to Kingston and attended by Dr. E. H. Loughran. She was resting comfortably today.

COLLIER ESTATE BEFORE SURROGATE

Charitable and Benevolent Institutions To Benefit—Further Hearing On Judicial Settlement—Hearing In Terwilliger Account Adjourned.

A hearing was had before Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court Tuesday in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Virgil B. Van Wageningen as surviving executor of the estate of the late Dr. Philip B. Collier of this city.

Dr. Collier for a number of years resided on Manor avenue and during all that time he was interested in various benevolent and public charities. Under his will his wife, Mrs. Anna T. Collier, receives the net income from the estate and at her death a number of legacies are directed to be paid, including a number to charitable and benevolent institutions. He appointed Virgil B. Van Wageningen of this city and Benjamin B. Tallmadge of Brooklyn, Mr. Tallmadge died in April, 1919, since which time Mr. Van Wageningen has acted as surviving executor.

Dr. Collier's estate consists principally of stocks and bonds, of which two have been sold since his death. After his death an inventory was made by F. J. R. Clarke, president of the National Ulster County Bank, and by Attorney Henry R. DeWitt, who were appointed appraisers by Surrogate Gill, and their inventory showed an aggregate value of the personal property amounting to $33,628.36.

The income received by the executors amounts to $12,456.66, and all bills and claims against the estate, including the cost of administration, amounted to $1,942.50. They have paid to Mrs. Collier and for taxes, insurance, water rents, etc., a total of $10,058.29.

At today's hearing, Mr. Van Wageningen appeared in person, Arthur C. Connelly appeared for the American Surety Company, Judge Betts for the Kingston City Hospital; the Rev. Dr. J. L. Leeper for the First Dutch Church; the Rev. Mr. Clark, George W. Banks and Dennis Johnson for the Franklin Street A. M. E. Zion Church. The Kingston City Hospital and the two churches mentioned will become beneficiaries under the will after Mrs. Collier's death. There was no appearance on the part of the estate of Mr. Tallmadge, the deceased executor, or by the Boards of Foreign and Domestic Missions of the Reformed Church, the Salvation Army or the Bethany Mission, which are also beneficiaries.

The matter was adjourned for further hearing until November 5.

Hearing in Enderly Case.

An extended hearing was had on Monday afternoon in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Harry Terwilliger as administrator of the estate of Edwin Enderly of the town of Gardiner and testimony was closed in regard to the claim of Howard B. Humiston of Kerhonkson for $500 for the funerals of Mr. Enderly and three members of the family of which bill the estate disputes the legal liability to pay for any of the funerals except that of Edwin Enderly. Four members of the Enderly family—Edwin, two of his brothers and one sister—died within two weeks during the influenza epidemic two years ago, and testimony has been given at previous hearings to the effect that Edwin Enderly gave all instructions to Mr. Humiston in regard to the three funerals and became personally liable. Among the witnesses examined on Monday was Anna E. Hayes, who testified that Edwin lived and worked at Lake Minnowaska but was head of the family and supplied everything needed in the household.

At the close of the testimony on Mr. Humiston's claim, DeWitt W. Ostrander, attorney for Hector Garish, Lucile Enderly and Arthur

Enderly, infants, and for Edwin Enderly, an incompetent person, requested an adjournment in order that he might examine in regard to assets of the estate. The matter was adjourned for further hearing until November 5. John N. Vanderlyn appeared for Administrator Terwilliger, with Judge James Jonkhe of counsel; Virgil B. Van Wageningen appeared for Mr. Humiston; Andrew Wright Lent appeared for Mrs. Mary E. Enderly, Reuben Enderly, Lena Enderly and Anna Hayes.

BETTER HERDS CAMPAIGN.

Interests Ranch Owners in Western States.

In the western range states all kinds of sire—bulls especially—are receiving scrutiny by live stock owners. There is increasing evidence that good pure bred sires have wide influence on the quality of young stock and on the returns from stock-raising operations.

One day recently the United States department of Agriculture enrolled in the "Better Sires—Better Stock" movement several ranchmen, each of whom had more than 1,000 head of live stock. One flock of sheep contained 250 pure-bred ewes and 1,450 crossbred ewes, the sires being all purebred. A cattle raiser who enlisted in the campaign the same day notified the department: "I have disposed of two grade Hereford bulls recently, having decided to run nothing but purebred sires." This remark is typical of the progress of the movement in Montana.

Animal Refugees.

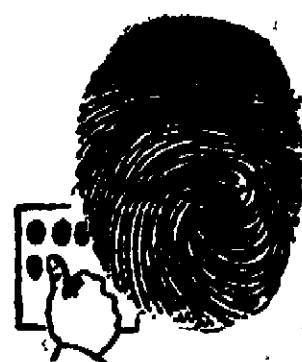

Wild animals know where they can find protection, says a United States department of agriculture circular on the fur industry. In places where there are game sanctuaries, wild creatures hasten to them at the beginning of every open hunting season.

Idleness.

I am not the only one that condemns the idle; for once when I was going to give our minister a pretty long list of the sins of one of our people that he was asking after, I began with: "He's dreadfully lazy." "That's enough," said the old gentleman, "all sorts of sins are in that one."—C. H. Spurgeon.

CARPENTIER MATCH ASSURED

Dempsey's Manager Expected To Sign Soon—Purse Will Be $500,000, Greatest Ever Offered, and Fight Is Expected To Take Place In New York Next Summer.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Oct. 27.—Changes in the articles demanded by Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, will be agreed to by all parties concerned and the Dempsey-Carpentier match will be a reality by tonight, according to indications today.

Following the announcement Tuesday that terms had been accepted by Kearns for Dempsey and Dempsey's manager, the manager of the world's champion "kicked over the traces" and announced that he would not attend today's scheduled meeting at the Hotel Claridge to sign the articles. The demands of the champion's manager, it is said, are reasonable enough and can be readily granted by the promoters. One point on which Kearns insists is that Dempsey's guarantee be paid 24 hours before the champion goes into the ring. Another demand is that he be permitted to name six prospective referees and several judges if the same conditions prevail as at Toledo.

Regardless of whether or not final articles are signed today Dempsey and Carpentier are as good as matched. They will be tied up tightly before Carpentier sails for France and the biggest fight attraction in the history of the game will be staged next summer for the biggest purse ever hung up—$500,000.

Tex Rickard broke all previous records for purses when he gave Willard and Dempsey $127,500 to battle at Toledo. That fight drew something over $240,000. The coming battle between Dempsey and Carpentier, which is practically sure to be staged in New York, will draw $1,000,000 provided it is staged in or near the metropolis. Hence the purse of half a million is no more nor less than the promoters might have been expected to offer.

Dempsey, it is said, will receive $300,000 for his end. Carpentier will get the remaining $200,000 and both will share in the moving pictures, as will the promoters of the fight. The pictures, by the way, will earn a handsome sum in New York state or in any state in which they are shown in this country, but abroad they will be worth a fortune and it is believed the boxers will realize almost as much from the showing of the pictures in Europe as they will get out of the purse.

The attitude of the New York state boxing commission towards the proposed fight is being watched with interest. So far the commission has not shown any definite policy, though it has put up what might be called a temporary barrier against heavyweights. This barrier, it is believed, will be taken down after election and because the Dempsey-Carpentier bout would be highly popular here it is predicted that the commission will grant the necessary permit to the promoters.

Though no site has been named and no date set, it is very probable that the bout will be staged on July 4 in or near New York city. An immense arena, similar, though much larger than the one erected by Rickard at Toledo, will be built to house the contest.

Georges Carpentier will sail for France on November 6 and will remain abroad until after the Xmas holidays, returning shortly after the first of the year to start training. Before leaving Carpentier, through his manager, will post a forfeit of $50,000 to guarantee his part of the agreement and Dempsey will post a like amount. The promoters, it is understood, will post a forfeit of $100,000.

Dempsey and the French champion will not be permitted to engage in any bouts after January 1 but both may box prior to that time and it is expected that if the bars against heavyweights are dropped by the New York commission, that Dempsey and Bill Brennan will be matched to battle at Madison Square Garden. This match was definitely "on" at one time but had to be postponed indefinitely because of the attitude of the boxing commissioners.

On Saturday afternoon, Oct. 30th, the Lowell Club will entertain the Federation of Women's Clubs in the parlors of the St. James M. E. Church. Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the home of the bride, who was the recipient of many artistic and useful gifts. Later Mr. and Mrs. Chandler left for a honeymoon trip to Syracuse and other points of interest in New York state and upon their return will reside in this city. The groom is employed on the West Shore railroad, and both he and his bride have the well wishes of a host of friends.

Dugan-Skane.

William Dugan of the firm of Costello & Dugan, hardware dealers, at 320 Wall street, and Miss Frances B. Skane, of 103 Elmendorf street, were married this afternoon at 1 o'clock at St. Joseph's Church, the Rev. John H. Brophy, rector of the parish, officiating. The attendants were Mrs. John D. Pfommer and Charles Skane, the latter a brother of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Dugan are spending part of their honeymoon in New York, and upon their return will make their home at 140 Wall street. The groom is a successful business man, always ready to work for the welfare of the city, while the bride has been a most valued employee of the Van Wagenen Company store. They will have the best wishes from their many friends for continued happiness.

Sheldon-Van Keuren.

A very pretty wedding took place Saturday, October 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Miller Van Keuren near Montgomery when their youngest daughter, Mildred Hawkins, was united in marriage to Clyde Bernhardt Sheldon of Goshen, N. Y. Promptly at 2 o'clock the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march were heard played by her cousin, Genevieve Decker of Montgomery. The bride party consisting of Mrs. William A. Jex of Rochester, sister of the bride, who was matron of honor and was attired in flesh colored crepe-de-chine carrying a bouquet of pink carnations, Miss Gladys Sheldon of Poughkeepsie, sister of the groom, who was bridesmaid, was attired in pink tricotette and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. The best man was William Boyd of Poughkeepsie, little Doris Jex of Rochester, three year old niece of the bride, acted as flower girl and wore a cute little dress of white point d'esprit and carried a basket of pink and white carnations. Bernhard Crist, cousin of the bride, was dressed in white and carried the ring in the center of a large pink dahlia—the color scheme of the wedding being pink and white. Mildred Jex of Rochester, niece of the bride, dressed in white and carried long pink ribbon streamers and formed an aisle for the bride party, taking their places on either side of the mantle in front of which was a huge bank of asparagus ferns, among which was interspersed pink and white roses. The bride entered on the arm of her father, who gave her away, and was beautifully attired in white crepe-de-chine and wore a veil draped in fashion and caught up behind her head and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. The Rev. A. Howard, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the wedding ceremony. After congratulations the bride and groom led the way to the dining room where a sumptuous wedding dinner was served by the young friends of the bride. The house was very tastefully decorated with a profusion of ferns, pink and white dahlia. The bride's traveling suit was blue tricotette with hat to match. They left amid a shower of confetti for a wedding trip. About seventy guests were present. Among them from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. J. Sheldon, H. Sheldon and Miss Rae Simpson of Goshen, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Williger and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. A. Sheldon of Kerbsburgh, N.Y.; Dorothy and Gladys Sheldon, William Boyd, Byron Velle and Mr. and Mrs. R. Conklin of Poughkeepsie.

WILSON RECEIVES HOLT DELEGATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Oct. 27.—President Wilson today received a delegation on Republican and Independent headed by Hamilton Holt, of New York, and pledged their support to the league of nations.

Holt, in addressing the president, stated that he felt sure there were many Republicans and Independents who were opposed to the league being made a party issue and that they would support the league. Members of the delegation on leaving the White House stated that the president had received them while sitting in a chair and that they were impressed in his apparent good physical condition and his keen minded attitude.

The president made a short statement to the delegation, which it is expected will be made public by the White House later in the day, when the stenographic notes have been transcribed.

POLITICAL ADVERTISING.

Under County Democratic Committee.

To the Editor of the Kingston Freeman.

Philip Elting is sending out circulars to the Democratic voters of Ulster county telling them, in effect, that Surrogate Walter H. Gill ought not to be re-elected because of the salary he has received.

According to Mr. Elting's figures, Mr. Gill received a salary of $3,000 a year for thirteen years as surrogate. As a matter of fact, Mr. Gill's original appointment by Governor Hughes was for a full year, and the appointment having been made on August 3, 1908, after Surrogate Davis of Saugerties had resigned, Mr. Davis resigned at that time because it was not considered proper for him to hold the office of surrogate at $3,000 a year and at the same time hold the $5,000 a year office of state water supply commissioner to which he was originally appointed June 1, 1905, and re-appointed one year later for the full term of five years. Since Mr. Elting wants the voters to have the facts, why not give them all the facts?

Mr. Gill received for his services as supervisor in 1886 the sum of $248. Supervisors now receive a salary of $350 a year and traveling expenses, although last year Supervisor John D. Frasier of Saugerties, who is also opposing Mr. Gill, received from the county of Ulster and town of Saugerties the sum of $2,848.41. Mr. Frasier thinks Mr. Gill has had the office of surrogate long enough. Mr. Frasier has served many years in public office. He began as page in the state assembly from 1891 to 1898 while he was supervisor he received from the town and county $4,137.17; as county clerk from 1901 to 1912, inclusive, he received $59,493.57; as supervisor from 1914 to date he has received from town and county $12,442.53, a grand total received by Mr. Frasier of $76,073.27. There may be some other receipts also, which are not so quickly seen in the proceedings of the board of supervisors.

Upon his appointment for four years as postmaster at Rondout, Mr. Gill was required to purchase the fixtures and equipment, at a cost of $1,500, and pay part of the clerk's salary out of his own salary and he actually received less than $1,500 a year. The salary of the lowest paid clerk in the post office department in Kingston is $1,800 a year. The government paid this net salary of $1,500 a year. Fifteen hundred dollars is the sum paid by the government in one lump sum to Mr. Elting for making the search of title of the present post office property at Broadway and Prince street.

For two years a corporation counsel under Mayor James E. Phinney, Mr. Gill was paid a salary of $1,500 a year. That salary was paid by the city of Kingston. The same amount was paid by the city for four years to Mr. Elting when he was corporation counsel in later years.

As surrogate, Mr. Gill receives a salary of $3,000 a year. That is not as big as the $5,000 a year salary paid for four years to Mr. Elting while he was United States shipping commissioner or the $15,800.00 he has received as an Ashokan commissioner.

Mr. Elting also calls attention to the fact that for his services as clerk of the surrogate's court, Walter H. Gill receives a salary of $1,500 a year—less than $10 a week. That is the salary at which John W. Eckert began work as county attorney seven years ago. Mr. Eckert also is opposing Mr. Gill because he says he has held office long enough. Mr. Eckert first began working for the county in 1911 as clerk of the election commissioners at a salary of $600 a year. For several years he has been drawing $2,400 a year, and the total amount that has been paid to him by town and county exceeds $12,000. And then he gets expenses besides. His salary is bigger than the salary Mr. Elting received yearly for the three years he was elected to the board of supervisors, but Mr. Elting for several years drew handsome fees from the county for committee services. But both Mr. Eckert and Mr. Elting say Mr. Gill has been surrogate long enough. Mr. Eckert lives all the year round in Kingston but he keeps a voting residence in the town of Shandaken so as to control "the county vote." These men oppose Mr. Gill's re-election because they say he has been surrogate long enough. These men are neither the Republican party, the Democratic party nor the Prohibition party of Ulster county. Mr. Elting is the chairman and Mr. Eckert is the secretary of the Republican county committee, and they with the other gentlemen named constitute the Republican "organization" which nominated Mr. Kaufman for surrogate. In other words, they were the men who took it upon themselves to name a ticket, passing the word along to their henchmen, regardless of the wishes and desires of the real members of the Republican party who desired a man ripe with experience and thoroughly learned in the law to look after the estates of widows and orphans.

These men who oppose Mr. Gill on his "record" are not among the lawyers who signed the unqualified endorsement of Mr. Gill. It is true they are not running for office, but they oppose a faithful, honest and upright judge because they say "he's had it long enough." It is therefore proper to compare Mr. Gill's record with their records and to ask them where and when they draw the line, and by whose authority?

There is not any question about the salary paid to Mr. Gill and his own say more than there is of Mr. Gill's qualifications. The surrogate's salary is the same as that received by the county judge and for the work rendered both salaries are small. Supreme court judges are paid $16,000 a year for fourteen years.

While Mr. Gill's son was in the army the county paid him the difference between the $20 a month he received as private and his salary as surrogate's clerk, the same as it paid the salary of County Highway Superintendent James F. Loughran and the city paid the salary of its employees, until they earned their way to war. His brother, LeRoy Gill, 510 1/2 years old, will be, also, sent to war, and both are still subject to call, being in the Reserve Force of the U. S.

I suppose Mr. Gill and Elting

used their salary as they received it for the ordinary expenses of living, because a man's living expenses and those of his family are not any less by reason of his being chosen for judicial or other office. It isn't any disgrace to a man to be paid a reasonable sum for working for the public, whether he does the work of surrogate or surrogate's clerk or town constable or member of the street force. The only question is whether he earns the money and gives a dollar's value for every dollar received. Whether he can be replaced by someone who is equally as competent and will be just as honest and faithful, day after day, in attending to his duties. The Gills are always at work in the surrogate's office, and not elsewhere. Surrogate Gill does not hand out political "pickings" to anyone to be paid out of the estates of the dead.

Dr. E. H. Loughran already has called public attention to the free service rendered by Surrogate Gill to the local exempt on boards of Ulster county from the time they were appointed until they wound up their affairs. Members of those boards and the boys who went to war—some of them never to return—know better than the general public what those services were. Mr. Elting didn't do service of that kind. Perhaps his other duties kept him too busy. When the first eight boys from Ulster county—John Lawrence Connelley, Willie Roe, Jr., Lester Wolf, James E. Miller, Charles N. Behrens, Walter H. Gill, Arthur F. Barrett and Harry J. Linkin marched down Broadway whistling a tune to keep step by, to entrain for Camp Dix to fight in the world war it was because each one of them had asked the local exemption board of Division No. 1 to be selected to go first, and Walter H. Gill's father marched ahead of him—the only public official who did turn out that morning. I don't begrudge the son the salary he received from the government or the county during the war or before or since or the salary Mr. Gill has received because they've both earned every cent of it and given more for the money than most of the men who are fighting them unless it's Mr. Elting and he's urging men and women to vote against Mr. Gill because of his "record."

I am proud of the record of the Gill family in the surrogate's court, just as I am proud of their war record. It's because they have "record" that I have voted for Walter H. Gill for surrogate and I do the same thing again, not matter whether I was a Republican or Prohibitionist.

Yours, truly,
ULSTER COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

INTERNATIONAL CROP INFORMATION

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—Three of the delegates from the United States to the general assembly of the International institute of agriculture at Rome, November 3-15, will be Dr. Thomas F. Hunt, dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California, permanent delegate; Leon M. Estabrook, statistician and chief of the bureau of crop estimates of the United States department of agriculture, and Harvey J. Sconce of "Fairview," Siddell, Ill., former president of the Illinois Agricultural Association and prominent in organizing the American farm bureau federation.

Because of failure of congress to provide a specific appropriation for the payment of the expenses of the American representatives it has been necessary to delegate men who will be in Europe at the time on other business or who are willing to pay their own expenses. Dean Hunt, who was appointed permanent delegate to succeed David Lubin, is now in Europe on sabbatical leave from the university and will reach Rome in time to take part in the meeting.

Founded on Lubin's Idea.

The international institute of agriculture was organized in 1905 through the assistance of King Victor Emmanuel III at the instance of the late David Lubin of California, who had first tried to interest several other countries in the project. Mr. Lubin conceived the idea of an international clearing house for crop and live stock statistics which would make available systematically, on the same dates for the entire world, information regarding the production, consumption, marketing and distribution of agricultural commodities. He was the permanent delegate of the United States to the institute from the time of its organization until his death in 1919.

The institute has a direct interest to American farmers, because prices of American products are determined to a considerable extent, by the relation between supply and demand which is world-wide in its application. The price of bread and meat in this country is influenced to a considerable extent by the surplus or deficient production of bread grains and meat animals in many foreign countries as well as at home.

Mr. Estabrook, who is thoroughly familiar with the crop and live stock statistical service of the United States, and deeply interested in the marketing and distribution of American farm products, is being sent to western Europe by the United States Department of Agriculture to collect information on the present and prospective supply, marketing, and distribution of agricultural products, especially cotton, wool, hides, and skins. The American representatives will pay particular attention to the marketing and distribution, surplus, carry-over, etc. of food crops, fiber crops, and live stock.

Meets Every Two Years.

The General Assembly meets every two years to review the work of the institute and to outline plans for the succeeding two years. The last meeting was held in May, 1917, the war having interrupted meetings since. The International Institute is maintained by contributions from 55 adherent countries, these contributions being proportionate to the part taken by each country in the activities of the institute. The United States and other countries of first rank contribute annually $16,000 for its support.

In addition to the crop and live stock statistical service, the institute collects and publishes information with regard to trade in agricultural products and fertilizers, cooperation among farmers, wages and conditions of farm labor, rail and water transportation rates, credit, finance, and exchange, and other economic factors affecting agriculture. In addition it issues a monthly review of progress in the science and practice of agriculture.

EVES DANCE COMMITTEES

Report Arrangements About Made For Friday Evening.

There is some misunderstanding as to the cost of the tickets for the dance to be held at the Elks Club Friday evening of this week, and Mrs. J. T. Loughran, chairman of the ladies' committee, in answer to some inquiries, has stated that one ticket will cover the admission of a gentleman and lady. This has been the practice heretofore for affairs given by the Elks.

Reports from the chairmen of the different committees were received at a meeting held last evening and final plans were made. Mrs. Norton Loughran reported that the work of decorating the hall is practically completed, and that one more day will see it finished. Mrs. Sam Bernstein Jr. also reported that all of the preliminary work of the refreshment committee was arranged, and that Friday afternoon will see it completed.

The dance hall in the Elks Club is one of the prettiest in the city, and has one of the best floors. Friday evening the entire second floor will be one of the prettiest in the city, and everything possible will be done to insure a pleasant evening.

THREE PARTNERS IN INDUSTRY

Grave danger menaces our industrial structure unless as a people we can be brought to realize that all industry, upon which is based our very existence as a nation, is in effect a partnership of Labor, Capital and Ideas, each absolutely dependent on the other two and none capable of separate conduct of the business.

Of late years there has been a tendency to ignore the basic elements of the industrial partnership, and when that tendency has progressed to the point where one of the partners assassinate the other, as has recently occurred in Russia, the whole industrial structure collapses. So-called radical propaganda, socialistic pragmatism, and the pernicious meddling of half-baked dabblers in economy, coupled with the abysmal ignorance of the simplest laws of human relationships on the part of demagogues, has stimulated an unrest that strikes at the very roots of our national existence and welfare.

Labor, Capital and Ideas are natural partners, and in America we have rewarded that partnership as no other country has ever rewarded it. A mere glance at the condition of the American worker shows that he occupies a higher industrial place than the worker of any other country. His standard of living is far higher than that of any other worker in any other land, and his opportunity for advancement along industrial lines is untrammelled. Today in the United States, Labor has a first lien on all product of industry, and practically dictates its own reward. There was a time in the history of American labor when the introduction of labor-saving machinery was violently opposed, but experience and a rising standard of education have shown the truly American worker that machinery has not only raised his production capacity, conserved his energy, multiplied his potential value, but increased his reward. Yet labor alone is incapable of these things, and it has required the co-operation of Capital-power and Labor-power to bring forth an industrial prosperity that is the marvel of the civilized world.

Ordinary common sense makes it clear that economic progress demands that it must be made profitable for Labor to go on producing, profitable for Capital to go on furnishing the supplies for Labor to use, and profitable for intellect to supply the ideas about which all industry revolves.

The three partners in industry must work together with some understanding of each other's functions and duties. There is the familiar fable of Aesop which details the strike of the members of the body against the stomach, and the difficulties attending it. Bolshevism is exactly that sort of strike, and the condition of Russia today bears witness to the horrible consequences that follow an infraction of the common law of the industrial partnership.—Francis H. Sisson in Leslie's.

WOMEN DO HONOR TO WADSWORTH

Mrs. MacDonald DeWitt Arranges Reception Attended by Over 1,500 Women Supporters.

The reception given to United States Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., by 1,500 Brooklyn women at the Brooklyn Club last Saturday is attracting general attention throughout the state and bespeaks not only the good fellowship in which he is held by women of that borough but the big vote which he will receive from the women of the state next Tuesday.

The Brooklyn Daily Eagle (Democratic), in commenting on the reception, says: "It was the one big effort of the Women's Wadsworth committee of which Mrs. MacDonald DeWitt is chairman." Each of the 1,500 women visitors was introduced to Senator Wadsworth by Mrs. DeWitt.

In formally presenting Senator Wadsworth to the large gathering, Mrs. DeWitt told about Senator Wadsworth's six years' service in the senate. "I appreciate the honor of being able to introduce so fine a candidate to the women of Brooklyn," she said. "If all you women could only know Senator Wadsworth as I have come to know him since I have been on the state executive committee, you would feel just exactly as I do. And I am one of his most sincere supporters. Senator Wadsworth is a splendid candidate."

Senator Wadsworth thanked the women for the honor shown him by the invitation. He pointed out the necessity for electing a Republican senate to support a Republican president. "I have heard stories of antagonism to my re-election," he said, "but from this assemblage I should judge they were exaggerated." He expressed gratification at the enthusiasm shown by Kings county, as evidenced by the greeting of the women. He spoke briefly of the league of nations as a vital issue in the campaign and of the reckless economic waste of the Democratic administration.

Each guest was given a trench mirror, a gift of the John J. Lyons campaign committee, known as the Lyons Loyalty Legion. Mrs. DeWitt also having been selected as chairman of the women's campaign committee for the state which will have charge of the work for the Republican candidate for secretary of state. Among the other women on the Lyons committee are Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Eli T. Hosmer of Buffalo, Mrs. Sophie Deolite, Madame Pauline Dewdney and Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp of Syracuse. The New York Evening Telegram publishes an excellent photograph of Mrs. DeWitt, of whom it says she is "one of New York's busiest women."

Mrs. DeWitt is well known in this city, where she has many friends and where Mr. DeWitt resided until his removal to New York city a number of years ago. Both are frequent visitors to Kingston.

Ice and Hairy-men.

Ice harvested from ponds on the farm saves many dollars a year to milk producers and provides the wherewithal for many home comforts. The United States department of agriculture, in Farmers' Bulletin 1078, which may be had upon request, tells how to build an ice house in the slack fall season and how to store ice economically and securely. One and a half tons of ice properly stored will serve to cool the milk from one cow for a year and leave some for family purposes.

The "V" Combination.

"The V. M. C. A. is not a church, not an educational institution, not a social welfare or physical culture movement. It is a combination of all three—a factory for turning out democratic citizens, to make men strong in body, keen in mind and with a true sense of their responsibility as individual units in society. * * * The success of the association is due to its adaptation. It adapts itself to every circumstance and follows every possible method in order to reach every type of man."—L. Yuan Hung, former president of China.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Benjamin F. Solomon of Denver, conscientious objector, who has been on a hunger strike at St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the insane here since July 19, was today a loser in his legal efforts to secure his release.

Justice Bayley of the supreme court of the District of Columbia decided that Solomon must serve out the term to which he was sentenced by an army court martial for desertion. Solomon sought to secure a writ of habeas corpus. Dr. Arthur P. Noyes of the hospital staff declared that Solomon is sane but also declared his hunger strike is only "nominal." Solomon has submitted to forcible feeding. He was originally sentenced to a twenty-five year term, but the president reduced this sentence to three years.

PRaises HARDING'S WELFARE PROGRAM

"Senator Harding's address on social justice in which he proposed a Federal Department of Public Welfare, is the longest and most practical proposal yet taken by any man of official responsibility," declares Hon. Simon D. Fess, representative in Congress from Ohio.

"His program goes directly to the core of the problem and demands protection, first, of motherhood, by safeguarding maternity, then of childhood, by proper legislation, and through these, the national health against invasion of disease through low standards of morals and commercial aggression of industry, which exposes to epidemics," he said. "He recognizes social justice not as a woman's problem, but as a general problem, in which women play a larger part. Hence, his specific demands that women be placed on various boards, Federal and State, which have to deal with problems of employment, labor adjustment and wherever national health is to be determined. This concern must extend to women in agriculture, as well as industries."

"Senator Harding's sound common sense prevents his dealing in general theories at the expense of practical results. Alive to the dangers of bureaucracy, against which he warns, he asks for a reorganization of our departments at Washington which will be one of his earliest tasks, and recommends the creation of a department of Public Welfare, to have directions of the problem of social justice. This will prevent duplication of agencies by unifying a half dozen bureaus now doing a haphazard work into one responsible and responsive department of the government. This step carries a program of social justice from the stage of theoretical speculation to that of practical execution, and the country can expect immediate action along practical lines."

GOVERNOR SPROUL SAYS WOMEN NOT IN FAVOR OF COX

"Women voters are not for Cox," says Governor Sproul of Pennsylvania and the reasons are not far to find. Governor Cox has alienated the affections of great masses of American women. In the first place, it is generally conceded that his intimate friends knew that in his heart he did not want women's suffrage and that his statements in favor of this measure were only for political effect.

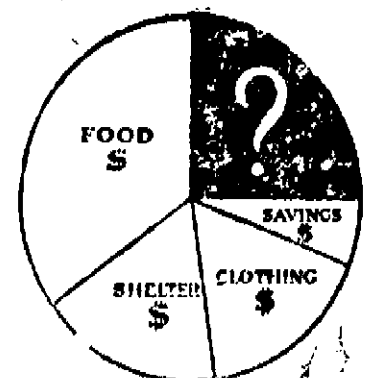

There are a great many travelling men in this country. They are, as a class, constructionists of a high order. Their intelligent optimism has often held a merchant up past the breaking point helping save his business. These travelling men have devoted wives; the most of them take a great interest in what their husbands are doing. Cox lost what friends he may have had among these good people by his amazingly stupid attack on commercial travelling and the travelling man.

Brown spot of Corn.

Brown spot of corn is present throughout a large part of the corn growing section east of the Rocky Mountains. The disease is caused by a minute fungous parasite. Damage may amount to 10 per cent, but is lower in most sections. Careful seed sanitation, crop rotation, and seed selection are recommended by the United States department of agriculture as an aid in controlling the disease.

Shade Tree Statistics.

Shade trees and ornamental shrubs in the United States represent a value of one billion dollars, according to the estimate of the United States department of agriculture. Ten million dollars damage is done annually by shade tree insects.

GANG OF AUTO THIEVES INVADE CITY; 1 CAUGHT

Trying to Steal Thomas Feeney's Hudson Car—The Gang's Car Claimed by Riel of New Jersey. Who Tells Tale of Being Robbed by Three Men He Gave Hide to Tuesday Night.

In the arrest of Michael Fedarko, twenty years old, who gave his address as No. 1035 Liberty street, Easton, Pa., the police department believes it holds one of the gang of auto thieves who invaded Kingston Tuesday night in an Oldsmobile automobile, and nearly got away with Thomas Feeney's new Hudson automobile, valued by him at $1,000. The others in the gang made their escape, and up to noon today had not been caught. The police are also investigating the story of Theodore W. Riel of Grantwood, N. J., who called at police headquarters about 5 o'clock this morning and claimed the Oldsmobile car in which the gang of thieves arrived in town. He said he was held up and robbed of his money and the car by a gang of three young men who had given a lift on the way. About 1 o'clock this morning police headquarters received a telephone call from Henry C. Mathews of No. 173 Abiel street, stating that a gang who had been trying to enter buildings on Abiel street had been rounded up and asking for help. Officers Martin, Camp, Knehn, Gess and Ryan were hurried to the scene, and when they arrived there they found that Mr. Mathews and Edward Telyea had captured Fedarko, whom they found under the porch at No. 197 Abiel street. The others in the gang had escaped.

The captured man denied that he was a member of the gang, and according to his story he arrived in Kingston about 7 o'clock that night, and had gone under the porch to sleep. He was identified, however, by the ones who had caught him as the man seen near Feeney's garage. At police headquarters an auto lock taken from Feeney's car was found in Fedarko's pocket.

Neighbors in the vicinity of Feeney's garage noticed the Oldsmobile parked at the curb, and saw the gang tinkering with it, blowing up the tires and other work, but thought nothing of it until later, when two men were heard on the roof of the Mathews house, but when they heard Mr. Mathews moving around they got down and ran away.

The two acted in such a suspicious manner that it was decided to round them up and question them. The police on making an investigation found that the new Hudson car recently purchased by Mr. Feeney, who has a boatyard on the Strand, had been placed in shape to run. The garage door was not locked as Mr. Feeney had the car locked, and it was impossible to start it without connecting the electric wiring. The car is an enclosed one and the doors on it were also locked but were

NEWS FROM THE FOOTBALL CAMPS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 27.—Don Lorie, star quarterback, and Garritty and Wittmer, got back into the Tiger lineup today after a one-day lay-off. Coach Roper is already pointing the varsity for the Harvard game a week from next Saturday.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 27.—Clyde King, star right tackle of the Mid-dies, returned to the main squad today as did other members of the first eleven who were granted a day of rest. Hard scrimmage was the order today.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Under the urging of Head Coach Daley and five assistant coaches, the army football squad is getting one of the most strenuous workouts of the season this week in preparation for Notre Dame. A half hour of hard scrimmage without a rest was ordered by the head coach today.

Ithaca, N. Y., Oct. 27.—Carey and Hoff are fighting it out this week for the regular quarterback job. Coach Dobie is undecided between the two, though Carey is the more experienced and will probably drive the Varsity when Cornell meets Rutgers Saturday.

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 27.—Dan Kelly, last year's freshman quarterback, will probably get a chance to run the Yale team against Colgate Saturday, according to the plan of the Yale management to place an entire substitute eleven in the field. With Murphy and Eddie Jones in the hospital and Kempton at half back, Kelly is regarded as the likely field general of the Eli forces. Tad Jones expects to develop a second string eleven for the big games and the game with Colgate is regarded largely in the light of a mid-season practice game because of the poor showing of the visiting team to date.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 27.—Holy Cross went in for a rough practice scrimmage today, the last before Saturday's game with Syracuse.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 27.—Brown is diverting much time to aerial football.

Substitute for Gold.

What is said to be a serviceable substitute for gold is obtained by combining 90 parts of copper with six parts of antimony and adding a little magnesium carbonate to increase the weight. In Memoriam.

In memory of our beloved mother, Mrs. John Byrnes, who departed this life two years ago today.

We mourn for you, dear mother, but not with outward glow. For those that mourn sincerely mourn silently and low.

We can not say, we will not say that you are dead, but just away with cheery smile and wave of the hand.

You have wandered to a better land. We think of you still as the same, we say. You are not dead but just away.

YOUR LOVING CHILDREN.

In Memoriam.

In memory of our beloved sister, Leila Irons, who departed this life two years ago today.

We often think of you, dear sister, when we are all alone. For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own.

Like try on the withered oak when all things else decay. Our love for you will still keep green and never fade away.

THE BYRNES FAMILY.

Memorial Notice.

In sad and loving memory of Alice A. Thompson, who died October 27, 1918.

Just two years ago today dear Alice's death came so sudden and with a surprise. God did His work and closed her eyes.

Forever her, we never will. We loved her then, we love her still. Her memory is so fresh today. As in the hour she passed away.

Such as we loved her, God loved her best. So He took her home with Him to rest.

God took His loved one from our home but not from our hearts. She is free from all sorrow and care. We miss her and mourn her in silence and tears.

We dwell on the memories of joys that have been. Though gone and forgotten by others, they live in our hearts. The grave that contains her is sacred to us.

HER MOTHER, MARY SUTHER AND BROTHERS.

MRS. BRAUER SEEMED SANE

This Is What Witnesses Say Of Woman Who Abandoned Her Baby In Woods, Where It Died—Harry Barron Its Father.

Testimony was taken this morning before Dr. Mary Gage Day, Dr. Van Hovenberg and A. C. Connolly, sitting as a commission to inquire as to the sanity of Anna Brauer, who abandoned her infant child in the woods in the town of Wawarsing on May 11. Mrs. Brauer was a former resident of Ellenville but some time ago went to West Hoboken, N. J., where she secured employment as a domestic. While there she gave birth to a child and later took it by train to Ellenville and then secured an automobile and was driven up the mountain in the vicinity of Chagamoor where she abandoned the child in the woods and returned to West Hoboken. She told of having abandoned the child and while returning to Ellenville she was arrested. She was brought to Ulster county and held in the jail on a charge of murder in the second degree. She was indicted by the grand jury on that charge and when arraigned in county court through her attorney, Cleon B. Murray, pleaded not guilty, and as a specification under that plea, pleaded insanity and a commission was later appointed to inquire as to her sanity.

District Attorney Traver first examined Peter C. Beck, at whose house Mrs. Brauer was employed while in West Hoboken and for whom she was working at the time of the affair. In December, 1919, Mrs. Brauer came to his house and applied for a position as a domestic. She was given the position and was employed there until the time when she was arrested. She told Mr. Beck that her husband had been killed the preceding September and that she had three children in a home on Staten Island. In answer to questions by Mr. Traver as to her soundness of mind while employed in the Beck household Mr. Beck stated that she had appeared to be a very intelligent woman, caring for the house and his children in an excellent manner.

During the spring, about February, she was taken ill with influenza and for about three weeks was ill. When she recovered she again took up the household duties. While engaged by him she always had appeared to be entirely rational and was an excellent housekeeper. Mr. Beck and his wife being engaged in business, the household duties were left to Mrs. Brauer. At the time she came to work for Mr. Beck, Mrs. Brauer said she had been in West Hoboken but two days.

About the first of May she was taken ill and gave birth to a child. Under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Beck she was taken to a hospital and cared for until she was able to again return and take up the work in the house. When she was discharged from the hospital she told Mr. Beck that she had made arrangements with someone at Ellenville to care for the child and informed him that she was going to Ellenville to take the child there. He took her to the train and purchased a ticket for Middletown from where she was to take the train to Ellenville, stating that she would be back the next day. She did return next day bringing along some fruit and flowers from the country. She told Mr. Beck that she had made arrangements to have the child taken care of for $2 a week and asked for additional wages to cover the expense. As she had always been a good housekeeper and performed her duties well he did advance her wages.

Not until an insurance man came to see Mr. Beck some three days later did Mr. Beck suspect anything was wrong. The insurance man told Mr. Beck that Mrs. Brauer's husband had died in 1914 and an investigation was then begun to determine who was the father of the child. That night Mrs. Brauer came in to see Mr. Beck when he came home at 2 o'clock in the morning and told him that she had not left the child with a Mrs. Lewis at Ellenville but had abandoned it in the woods. She asked him to help her out of the trouble and he suggested that she return to Ellenville and secure the child, take it and leave it along the road where some one would see it and report the matter to the authorities. She agreed to do this and the next morning started for Ellenville. As the child had been abandoned in the woods for five or six days then Mr. Beck knew it could not be alive and when Mrs. Brauer had left for the station to take the train to Ellenville he went to the police station and reported the matter and asked that a detective be sent to the train and arrest Mrs. Brauer. This was done.

When questioned by Mr. Traver as to whether Mrs. Brauer seemed excited when she told the story, Mr. Beck said she had not. She even came downstairs the morning after telling him of the matter and smilingly asked him if he had thought of any better plan than that suggested the night before.

Cross-examined by Cleon B. Murray, Mr. Beck said that Mrs. Brauer always appeared to be bright and intelligent. He always thought a great deal of her children in a great home on Staten Island and had asked her wife to go with her once to see them, which she had done. Mrs. Brauer's illness with influenza was about two months before the birth of the child.

A. J. Stewart, a lieutenant of police of West Hoboken, N. J., was next called. It was his office that Mrs. Brauer was taken after her arrest and before being brought to Ulster county.

When arrested Mrs. Brauer was brought to his office by a detective and questioned by Lieut. Stewart. She gave him a description of the spot where she had abandoned the child so clearly that he was able to telegraph to the police at Ellenville and the body was located. At the time of the arrest she appeared to be entirely rational and inquired of the lieutenant what would be likely to happen to her.

While in his office awaiting word from the Ellenville authorities she continued to abandon the child in the woods. At that time a statement was taken and she signed it.

She also told Lieutenant Stanton that the father of the child was Harry Barron, who had been employed in a restaurant at Union Hill and that she had lived with him as man and wife for some time before coming to West Hoboken to work.

When asked why she had abandoned the child she replied that she did not know why she had done it and later said what else could she do, she was working.

When first brought into the police station she cried a little but later seemed calm and sat around the office and read the paper. At no time did she appear other than rational and there were no signs of insanity.

When cross-examined by Mr. Murray in regard to the description she gave of the spot where she had left the child, the police officer said that she gave such a good description that he had telegraphed it to the Ellenville police and from the description had been able to locate immediately the body.

After the examination of Mr. Stanton a recess was taken until 2 o'clock this afternoon.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

John Delaney died Monday at his home in New Paltz. He was born in 1834, and had lived until next August he would have received the medal for 50 years membership in the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows. He was also a member of Hudson River Lodge, No. 87, F. & A. M. Two sons survive. The funeral was held today. Interment in Newburgh.

Cottickill, Oct. 26.—On October 19, died of angina pectoris, wife of Ira Snyder of Cottickill and daughter of the late Christopher Snyder of the same place. Mrs. Snyder was born, July 4, 1858, in the old Snyder Homestead at the eastern end of the village of Cottickill. She came of sturdy stock, marked by Christian faith and faithfulness, and contained the family traits to a high degree in her own life and character. An event in 1894 seemed especially to deepen and sweeten her character and never lost its influence. In that year, within one month, four of her six children died of diphtheria, together with a faithful, dear friend, who had volunteered as nurse. The children were: Alvah, died November 10, aged 7 years; Roscoe, died November 26, aged 11 years; Alvah S., died December 8, aged 1 month; Beulah, died December 8, aged 2 years. The friend was Miss Sadie, daughter of Joseph Hasbrouck of Marlborough. These all died in her home. It speaks highly for her strength of character, that for 26 years more she maintained the happiness, cheerfulness and sweetness of the family life, contributing daily to the welfare and prosperity of the home, while taking an active part in the community and church life. Mrs. Snyder became a member of the Marlborough Reformed Church early in life and was always a faithful and helpful member. She leaves a husband, a son and daughter and 2 brothers. In the absence of her pastor the funeral services were conducted by a former pastor, Mr. McE Nair of Holmdel, N. Y., at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in her late home.

Let's Practice Hygiene.

West Valleys, in Georgia, there is a little three room long and three-quarters of a mile wide, with an average depth of twelve feet of water, which discharges every three or four years and then comes back again. It disappears into natural underground passages, taking one or three weeks in the process and leaving a beautiful sandy beach. After a month or so the water begins to come back, and in a couple of weeks it is in the same old place.

New York, Oct. 27.—Apparently some of those who have heard or repeated the rumors that an extra dividend might be declared on Steel Common had bought the stock on the basis of those rumors and when they found that there was no foundation for the report, threw their stocks over at the opening of the stock market today. There was a wide opening in Steel Common, the first in a long time, initial sales being recorded at 250,000 shares at from 88 1/2 to 89 1/2, a drop of 1 1/2 from yesterday's final figure, and in the next few minutes the stock was traded in at 88 1/2. Republic Steel opened up 1/2 to 78 1/2 and then dropped to 75 and Baldwin Locomotive moved up 1/4 to 114 1/2. The oil stocks continued the strongest and among the prominent features. There was a good demand for Seneca Copper which rose to 18 1/2.

The action of Steel Common in the early trading exerted a disturbing influence throughout the rest of the list and during the forenoon there was a weak tone to the active list. Steel Common yielded 1/2 to 87 1/2. International Paper fell 2 points to 66 1/2. Mexican Petroleum advancing to 19 1/2, dropped to 19 1/2 and Royal Dutch dropped nearly 2 points to 75 1/2. The railway stocks were about 1 point below the early levels. The market closed heavy; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

Organized Maine Women for Harding

Organizing Maine women required speaking as many as fourteen times in one day, traveling 5,000 miles by automobile and 1,500 miles by train in less than eight weeks. Miss Betty Edwards of Indiana made the record. She visited all counties and towns in the state.

Voice Over the Mountains.

Happy is the man who can capture the brightest and the truest features. He who has captured such characteristics and expressed his deepest admiration for the power—Speech.

Appetite of Elms.

Birds are usually voracious eaters. Some birds consume one and a half times their weight of food in twenty-four hours. The heron, which has the light weight of four pounds by weight of its body, is a striking example. Wild fowls are among the greediest eaters.

Let's Practice Hygiene.

West Valleys, in Georgia, there is a little three room long and three-quarters of a mile wide, with an average depth of twelve feet of water, which discharges every three or four years and then comes back again. It disappears into natural underground passages, taking one or three weeks in the process and leaving a beautiful sandy beach. After a month or so the water begins to come back, and in a couple of weeks it is in the same old place.

Just cleaned on foot.

Hand had suffered several cuts during the day without making a fuss, at last the full dose of the first dose and bumped her head. She sat up and rubbed the injured spot, evidently recovering in her mind the "dip" and then she said: "Well, I seem to be out of bad luck today!"

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

By MARY GAGAN BOKER

SUN'S MOVING PICTURES

"I'm going to have an all day moving picture show today," Mr. Sun, "and I have engaged so many actors and actresses to take part. We're going to have our show along the side of a lake and over the lake and some scenes will be up on the shore of the lake."

So all the Sun Fairies came to the moving picture show. Mr. Sun likes to be very up-to-date though he is such an old, old fellow, so he has a moving picture show, pictures in which old Mother Nature and all her family help take part, and in which the Sun Fairies and many other little creatures take part too.

"This time the Sun Fairies mostly were going to watch though some of them too were going to act."

"I will announce the pictures," said Mr. Sun, "as I haven't a screen in readiness upon which to show what the pictures are going to be."

"The first picture will show a tower known as Kingslayer Tower, a beautiful tower on the lake. This is a picture like a travel picture one would see in the real moving pictures."

"I heard they show pictures of different places and of interesting buildings and so forth, and therefore I am showing this picture."

And Mr. Sun showed upon the tower and all the little Sun Fairies looked at it and clapped their hands, and the Grease Brothers cheered.

"Now you will see different stones, of all kinds of shapes and how they have been changing throughout the years by having the water rub over them and by all the changes that have naturally come to them throughout the season."

"And you will see a picture of children wading and of how the stones try not to be too slippery so the children will not fall. It is hard for some of the stones to take these parts for they have moss upon them and water weeds which make them slippery."

"Next you will see a row of beautiful forget-me-not flowers growing along by the side of the lake, and up on the side of the little bank from which a stream is running down."

"And you will see the children next gathering a basket full of these forget-me-nots and taking some of them home, dug up by the roots, so they can plant them in the gardens and care for them there."

"Next you will see bugs hopping out in the sunshine and you will see too that a very dark picture following shows the bugs hidden back of the rocks where it is cool for them and where they can rest. I do not throw my slightest spotlight upon them as they wouldn't like it. So it is a very dark picture as you see."

Mr. Sun paused and then went on again.

"We will see what is known as the clearing—a lot of brushwood and trees which have been cleared away from the side of this hill overlooking the lake."

"It is growing up fast now and soon there will be no clearing! Behind the clearing you will see rocks—there is a fine quarry there from which builders can get rocks."

"There are thimble berry bushes along the lake shore, with their berries which look like thimbles!"

"And the next picture shows a Children's Wedding. It is not really burning but that is its name for it looks so feathery and like a fire when the glow is over and when it is still somewhat bright but rather smoldering."

"And you will see a row of blue bells. They are singing to help along this picture and their song, if you will listen to it, is this:

"We're shining for Mr. Sun. We're the blue bells having great fun. We are here to sing our song of kind love."

Our songs of husband, not of sadness. We have our like shining with your picture show. Singing like ours so soft and low."

"You see," said Mr. Sun, "my picture show today has been one of secrecy—like many a picture show is. I have all kinds, yes, Mr. Sun has all kinds of moving pictures. And you see our right after the other at my show just as you do at all shows?"

Just to know.

Shadowbox—What can I do for you, my boy?

Boy—Please, I've called about your advertisement for a man to retail cameras.

Shadowbox—Yes, and do you think you could do the work?

Boy—Oh, no, sir, but I only want to know how the cameras look their talk.

WHITE MENTIONS

Best Democratic Chairman Doesn't Say What They Reserve as He Adapts New Program Resigning Wilson Mandate to Party.

(By George White)

Chairman Democratic National Committee.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Oct. 27.—I am not surprised that Senator Harding has proved unequal to the tasks set by the Republican nominee for president this year. My only censure of him is that he ever consented to attempt a course so desecrated.

Perhaps every great mind, skilled in the art of speech and act, could have met the test of facing both ways on an issue like the league of nations.

For a while he gave the impression that his "association of nations" was a modified league, which modification he would propose to the forty great and small nations who now compose the league. Then, faced by the demand of Senators Johnson and Borah that he come out for or against the league idea in its entirety, he did so at Des Moines, saying: "I stand for rejection."

Since then, at the price of thirty-one signatures of pro-league Republicans, who were seeking to save their faces, he timidly revived a modification of the league at Indianapolis.

Now he has gone back to the irreconcilable anti-league position again, feeling, and with justice, that Taft and Root and Hughes and Hoover will stand by him, regardless of conviction, but that Johnson and Borah will not.

It has been a clumsy and pitiful spectacle. It has provided an unfair test of abilities never higher than mediocre. But it has given the people at least a straight-out issue: Cox for the league with reservations; Harding against the league despite reservations.

On that issue we are certain to win.

BASEBALL JURY REPORTS FRIDAY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Chicago, Oct. 27.—No further indictments will be returned by the grand jury here in connection with its investigation of dishonesty in organized baseball, it is considered certain today. The jury is said to have concluded its probe so far as examination of witnesses is concerned, but will meet Friday to make its formal return to the court.

Thirteen men have been indicted by the jury, and these true bills will be formally returned in court. The indictments name Joe Jackson, Eddie Cleotis, Claude Williams, George Weaver, Oscar Felsch, Charles Riberger and Fred McMullen, active members of the Chicago White Sox during the 1919 season; Arnold Gandil, former first baseman of the Sox; Hal Chase, former first baseman of the New York Americans; Chicago White Sox, Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants; Bill Burns, erstwhile pitcher for the White Sox; Abe Attell, former featherweight champion; J. J. "Sport" Sullivan and Rachel Brown, alleged Boston gamblers.

Although it has given some attention to the conduct of baseball pools, it is understood that the grand jury will deal with this phase of baseball gambling through recommendations only, rather than indictments. Considerable discussion was aroused here today by the testimony before the jury yesterday of Harvey Redmond, hotel keeper of East St. Louis, Ill., that he had informed Charles Comiskey, owner of the White Sox, that eight members of his team had sold out to the gamblers more than a year ago. It was expected a statement from Comiskey would be forthcoming.

Joe Gedeon, second baseman of the St. Louis Browns, is believed today to have saved himself from indictment by a frank statement to the grand jury of his knowledge of the 1919 plot to "fix" the world's series. It is thought likely Gedeon will be allowed to continue in organized baseball. Arnold Rothstein, New York gambler, returned to New York today after testifying before the jury. He told the jury that Attell and Burns had approached him with a plan to "buy out" the White Sox players for $100,000 but that he had refused and had thrown the men out of his office.

TESTIMONY IN CARPENTER CASE

In supreme court Tuesday morning before Judge Haskin and a jury, the action brought by John Carpenter against Clinton Van Buskirk of Saugerties was begun. The action is brought for personal injuries sustained by Mr. Carpenter on the evening of September 24, 1919, when an automobile owned by Mr. Van Buskirk and driven by his chauffeur ran into the plaintiff near his home on the Saugerties road, knocking him down and breaking his leg and inflicting other injuries.

Mr. Carpenter was laid up for several months and until April following the accident was unable to go back to work at the coal pockets of the West Shore Railroad in the north yard where he is employed. He still is unable to walk well and goes about with a limp.

At the time of the accident Mr. Carpenter was standing alongside the road in front of his home just outside the city limits. He had come out of his house to go across the road to a neighbor's. A car was approaching from the direction of Kingston and Mr. Carpenter waited for it to pass. While standing there he heard a noise in the direction of Saugerties and turned to see the Van Buskirk car directly upon him. He was knocked down and rendered unconscious. At the time of the accident he was standing on the right hand side of the road leading to Saugerties. He testified that he did not see the car approaching from the direction of Saugerties as he was watching the car which was coming from Kingston and which should pass on the side of the road where he was standing. He did not hear a horn or signal sounded by the Van Buskirk car.

Duliois Gillette and Judge Jenkins appear for the plaintiff and Benjamin Rowe and Andrew J. Cook for the defendant.

AT THE THEATERS.

Politics and a Corinne Grimh Picture at Kenney's.

"Uncle Sam of Freedom Ridge," the story of an atonement and a resurrection, from the famous book by Margaret Prescott Montague, with an exceptional cast of players, will be presented on the same program at Kenney's tonight with "Bab's Candidate," a true to life story. The characters do the most natural things and have those queer traits that make human beings so interesting. Tomorrow, Pauline Frederick in "The Woman in Room 13," the most baffling, one of the most thrilling mystery dramas that ever reached the screen.

"The Almighty Dollar," starring Elmo Lincoln, June Elvidge and Frances Nelson, will be the attraction at the Auditorium tonight. It is the story of two orphaned girls, sisters, compelled to face the world alone. This is a drama combining all the thrills and sensations of a melodrama, yet not one of those impossible ultra-melodramas. Tom Mix in "Shooting Up the Movies" is also programmed. Tomorrow "Man's Plaything," a girl's sacrifice for one she loved, yet he only wanted her for fancy's sake, to cast aside when he grew tired.

Ray Comstock and Morris Gray's beautiful production of "Adam and Eva," which broke the attendance record for more than a year at the Longacre Theater, New York, will come to the Kingston Opera House next Saturday, matinee and night. It is claimed that no comedy in the past ten years, produced as they have been, can be compared with "Adam and Eva" in the profusion of clever, snappy dialogue and ludicrous situations.

HOUSEHOLDERS' FAULT.

That More Cases of Infectious Disease Are Not Reported.

By a recent comparison of records of deaths with reported cases of infectious diseases in New York State, it has been discovered by the State Department of Health that about half of such cases were not being reported to the health authorities as required by law. A further investigation reveals the fact that physicians as a rule are not to blame, the fault being largely with the householder in those cases where no medical practitioner is in attendance. Evidently the average citizen does not understand that the householder is required by the Sanitary Code to report unattended cases of infectious disease to the health authorities and that failure so to do renders him liable to the same penalties as are imposed in similar cases on physicians.

Chestnut Blight Remedy.
Chestnut orchards which have been practically annihilated by a blight of Japanese origin may be restored through efforts of the United States department of agriculture. Ten years' experimentation has shown that it is possible to cross the chinquapin, a dwarf chestnut, with the Japanese chestnut, which is blight resistant, and that the hybrid trees thus produced are quite resistant to the disease and yield nuts of good flavor and quality.

Eclipse of Moon.
There was a total eclipse of the moon today, but it was not visible in the eastern states. It began at 3:26 a. m. Mountain time, and totality ended at 7:54 a. m. The moon will be full tonight. A storm period is due today with a cold wave and frosts Friday, Saturday and Sunday.
